RUMOR IS THAT STUDENTS WILL PETITION FOR DANCE

But the Trouble is That There are Boys that are Out Numbered Fifteen to One

It was rumored at the State Teachers College this morning that a petition would soon be circulated asking the permission of Uel W. Lamkin, president of the institution, to allow a student dance to be held at the College every Friday night. It is proposed to hold these dances in the College library and to have the expenses of the orchestra borne by the dancers. There would be one slight disadvantage to the matter. There are approximately three hundred girls at the College who dance, or think they dance and there are only about twenty boys who tickle the light fantastic.

HARDING AND CABINET OPTIMISTIC OVER OUTLOOK

With Strikes Practically Settled the Future Looks Especially Bright

Washington, Sept. 15—President Harding met with the cabinet today and genuine optimism over the steadily brightening business outlook for the country supplanted the atmosphere of gloom during the last several weeks. All industries such as railroads, coal, steel and textiles are showing signs of picking up. The railroad strike is virtually settled and coal production is again in full swing. Business revival depends on condition of the railroad and amount of business capable of handling, the cabinet members say.

SEN. REED WILL OPEN CAMPAIGN AT MEXICO

First Speech on September 27—Preparing To Wage Aggressive Campaign

Senator James A. Reed will open the state Democratic campaign September 27 at Mexico, Mo., it was decided at a conference last night in Kansas City, which was attended by Senator Reed, Democratic candidate for congress, and members of the Democratic state committee. W. L. Igoe of St. Louis, chairman of the Democratic state committee, presided at the conference.

Mr. Igoe said that state campaign headquarters would be opened next week in St. Louis. No more party caucuses were to be held until the campaign opens, he said. But the state committee would be called to meet soon.

"Democratic senators and representatives from out of the state will come to Missouri in October," Mr. Igoe said. "For stump speeches. We are preparing to wage one of the most aggressive campaigns in the history of the state. We will have two large tents to be erected for meetings in towns throughout the state."

G. H. Scruton, editor of the Sedalia Democrat and president of the Missouri Democratic Press association has issued a call for a meeting of the association to be held in Kansas City September 22.

All editors of Democratic newspapers in the state are asked to attend.

DR. EAGLE HAS MADE SEVERAL TESTS THIS WEEK

Says That He Has a Busy Week Ahead—Will be at Shells, Neals And Two Other Places

Two hundred and seventy-two head of cattle were tested Monday at the farms of A. B. Dowden and Ernest Wray in the Myrtle Tree School district by Dr. T. J. Eagle. Tuesday a bunch of about 100, gotten together by Bell Florea and Frank Ulmers in the community west of Pickering were tested and about 150 were tested Wednesday, gotten together by A. C. Klimmet and B. S. Cox.

Next week will be a big one in the testing of cattle, Dr. Eagle said today. Monday tests will be made at two farms, one at Ellihu Shells and the other at Charles Hornbuckles. Tuesday a bunch gotten together by J. Neal and N. E. Hartmen, southwest of Sunny Brook will be tested, and on Wednesday tests will be made at the county farm, where a bunch will be assembled by G. A. Brown.

MR. AND MRS. S. O. DUNN WILL COME THIS EVENING FOR A VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Dunn of Chicago are expected to arrive in Maryville this evening about 7:30 o'clock for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. George B. Baker. Mr. and Mrs. Dunn are driving through in their car and were at Des Moines this morning. Mr. Dunn is editor of the Railway Age. He was a former newspaper man of Maryville.

DEMOLAYS ARE TO GIVE ANOTHER PLAY

THIS TIME IT'S "A TAILOR MADE MAN"

IS HUMOROUS PRODUCTION

Some of Cast Will Be Same as for "Believe Me Xantippe"—Miss Dow Director

The Maryville Chapter, Order of De Molay, will present the four-act comedy, "A Tailor Made Man," at the Empire Theater Monday and Tuesday nights, October 16 and 17. The play will be directed by Miss Blanche Dow, head of the department of dramatics at the State Teachers College.

Until a few days ago the De Molays were planning on presenting the play, "One a Minute," but they were unable to secure the script of this play.

However, "A Tailor Made Man," is a comedy with rare situations and a great deal of humor. This play was first produced at the Cohan and Harris Theater in New York and at this theater it had a remarkably long run. Later it was played on the road for several seasons.

The play was written by Harry James Smith, a well-known American playwright, and was based on "The Well-Fitting Dress Coat" by Gabriel Dreyfus.

The cast for "A Tailor Made Man" is a large one, there being twenty-eight speaking parts. In one of the acts there is a scene where there are more than that number.

In brief the story deals with a young man who is always mourning the fact that he is not on a higher plane of society. Then his chance for advancement comes and he takes it. What he does and how he does it is woven into a comedy that not only entertains but holds the interest of the audience.

The cast for the play will probably be announced tomorrow. Some of the persons who take parts in "A Tailor Made Man" will be from the cast of "Believe Me Xantippe" the comedy which the De Molays presented successfully last year. This play was also directed by Miss Dow.

SENTENCED MEN ESCAPE FROM THE ALBANY JAIL

Lawter, Sweeney and Meek Make Get Away Last Night—Manner Not Known

Dewey Lawter, Harold Sweeney and Alfred Meek, who were sentenced to the penitentiary at the circuit court term at Albany this week, escaped from county jail at Albany last night, according to information received by the sheriff's office this morning. The manner of their escape was not stated. The men are known as hard boiled criminals, and were constantly being guarded both day and night. The following is from the Albany Ledger about their trial this week:

Lawter, Sweeney and Meek, charged with burglary and larceny of Haas & Wrenn store at Stanberry on July 27 entered pleas of not guilty, and as a test case that of Harold Sweeney was brought to trial. Attorneys J. W. Sulinger of King City, and W. J. Judd, who took charge of the case at the special term of court held a few weeks ago, announced they had withdrawn from the case, and the attorneys selected were Ellis Cook of Maryville, and R. P. Duncan of Stanberry.

The case was called to trial Tuesday morning and occupied all of that day and most of the following day. Wednesday afternoon a verdict of guilty was returned by a jury, and punishment assessed at eight years in the penitentiary.

The other two defendants then plead guilty and Lawter was given seven years and Meek two years in the penitentiary. Just when the young men will be taken to the state prison is not known. But when they are landed behind the walls of the prison there will be a sense of relief. The jail has been constantly guarded since their arrest, and that has become quite an expense, besides there has been a general belief that pairs of the fellows might make some effort to release them.

1-inch Rain at Hopkins

It is reported that there was an inch of rain in the vicinity of Hopkins this morning. The rain began about 4:30 o'clock and lasted until 7 o'clock. The rain was local, however, as it only sprinkled a bit at Pickering.

100,000 THREATENED WITH DEATH IN SMYRNA

Turks Are Said to Have Set Fire to American College and Carried Off Pupils

One hundred thousand persons in Smyrna are threatened with death from starvation as a result of huge concentration of the Greek Armenian refugees there.

The Turks are reported to have begun massacre of Christians there and 1,300 are missing today.

The city on fire is threatened with destruction. The Turks are said to have deliberately set fire to the American College for women at Smyrna and some pupils were carried off by Turkish soldiers.

The British cabinet met today to outline its near east policy. Great Britain, France and Italy agreed upon unanimous action for the protection of Turkish straits.

PLAY "THE TRIAL OF FIRE" PUT ON

BY PUPILS OF THE A SEVENTH GRADE IN ASSEMBLY

ALL CAUSES PROSECUTED

A Short Sketch of the History of Fire and Reasons of Observing Prevention Week Given

The first grade assembly of the school year was held at the high school auditorium this afternoon. A play, "The Trial of Fire," was put on by the A Seventh grade under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Theo. Gray, and in accordance with the fire prevention week. The stage was decorated so that it represented a court room in which fire and all of its causes were being prosecuted. The state wiring and batteries used in the program were contributed by E. L. Padgett.

Before the play the following short sketch of the history of fire and the reasons of observing fire prevention week were given by Edward Dietz:

"More than fifty years ago on the 9th of October the city of Chicago was in flames. The streets were full of terrified people who saw their homes and places of business being destroyed. Many people were burned to death and many more were injured for life. Several miles of the city were turned into blackened ruins. It was one of the most terrible events in the history of our country; yet it started from a single tiny flame which might have seemed too small to accomplish any harm. Yet the little flame grew swiftly into such a tremendous blaze that the country will never forget the Chicago Fire. Now we are observing Fire Prevention Day.

"If each of the school children in the United States would learn how to prevent fire and would form habits of carefulness, it would go far in saving lives and property. We all love our town and wish to become good and helpful citizens, therefore, remember this, for it is the greatest lesson of Fire Prevention Day: A careless person can never be a really good citizen; he will always be a danger to himself and those about him.

"Now we are going to have a 'trial of fire' in order that we may learn some of its lessons."

The cast for the play given was as follows:

The Trial of Fire.

Judge—Walter Dow.

District Attorney—Don Alexander.

Counsel for the Defense—Frank Fisher.

Clerk of the Court—Edward Dietz.

Court Officer—Forrest Rinehart.

The jury was composed of: Arvilla Trullinger, foreman; Neola Smith, Frances Ledgerwood, Bonnie Campbell, Pearl Dawson, Elizabeth Benge, Esther Swanson, Emma Barrett, Envy Brewer, Clarence Lloyd, Harry Wilson, Orville Bennett.

The defendants, (eleven of the major causes of fire):

Kerosene—Mary E. Sealeman.

Cigarette—Harold Pugh.

Match—Emmett Kenney.

Electricity—Beverly Martin.

Robbush—Herman Carstens.

Gas—Charmond Murray.

Defective Chimney—Margaret Overmier.

Gasoline—Mary Ellen Kendall.

Lightning—Mozelle Dinsmore.

Bonfire—Violet Shelton.

Spontaneous Combustion—Maude Masters.

The Arch Criminal—Carelessness—Maurice Woodburn.

SALVATION ARMY BOARD ORGANIZED

PROF. C. E. WELLS IS THE CHAIRMAN.

COUNTY QUOTA IS $1,000

Time for Raising the Funds Is October 9 to 16—Local Boards Praised.

The Salvation Army Advisory Board for Nodaway County met yesterday afternoon and decided to accept the budget of $1,000 that has been set for the quota to be raised this year in the county. Prof. C. E. Wells of the State Teachers College is the county campaign chairman.

Mr. Wells has almost completed the work of organizing in Maryville and expects to appoint committees for other towns in the county. The officers of the committee for Maryville are: Chairman, Prof. C. E. Wells; secretary, Charles F. McCaffrey; treasurer, S. H. Kemp.

The following men have agreed to solicit in the business sections of Maryville: C. E. Wells, Charles F. McCaffrey, S. H. Kemp, George A. Fite, Thomas Wadley, George Moore, C. A. McCoppin, G. H. Westfall, William A. Miller, Dr. F. M. Ryan and Dr. F. R. Anthony. Mrs. Bernice Hankins is chairman of the publicity committee.

The date set for doing the soliciting is October 9 to 16, the time at which the national drive for funds will be made.

"It would be impossible for the Salvation Army to work so effectively on the broad scale that it does were it not for the whole-hearted aid of the county advisory boards which are functioning in practically every county in the United States," said Brigadier John C. Smith, commander of the Kansas and Missouri division of the Army, during a recent conference at the divisional headquarters in Kansas City.

"Through the advisory boards we are able to reach and help classes of people that it was difficult for us to touch in former days. In a county where the advisory board members are active—and most boards are active, the Salvation Army becomes a tangible, vital factor in the physical and spiritual welfare of the community. Even though there be no corps in the vicinity the maternity and industrial institutions in nearby cities are always open for the care and uplift of local cases. Board members in dozens of counties in this state can testify to the burdens that the Salvation Army has taken from the shoulders of the community and handled in a manner that would have been impossible for the municipal, county or state authorities.

"But for the advisory boards we never would have heard of most of these cases and certainly would not have been able to investigate their merits and finance their relief. We realize that most of our board members are busy men and women and that it is occasionally necessary for them to give some of their time to the work that the position entails, yet the knowledge of the part they are playing in a great humanitarian program rarely fails to compensate them for the effort."

MISS MARGARET SCULLY TO LEAVE TOMORROW

Place to Be Taken by Mrs. Grace Bean, Who Has Been Assisting in Health Work

Miss Margaret Scully, who has been head county nurse for the Nodaway County Health Department since its establishment early this year, will leave tomorrow evening on the Wabash for St. Louis, from where she will leave on the Pennsylvania road for New York. She expects to put in a part of her time from now until the first of the year as a private nurse and at that time she will probably go back into public work again. Miss Scully resigned her place here some time ago, the resignation to take place the middle of this month.

Miss Scully has been an active laborer for the department and much constructive work has been done in the schools and in health work in general during her stay here. Her place will be taken by Mrs. Grace Bean, who has assisted her for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Nuckols are the parents of a son, born last night at their home in Elmo.

13 CHILDREN SENT HOME FROM HOPKINS AND VICINITY

Are Suffering With Skin Infection That Is Prevalent in the Schools This Fall.

Nine children were sent home yesterday from the schools in Hopkins by Mrs. Grace Bean, county health nurse, to get treatment for a skin infection that is prevalent among the school children of the county this fall and four were sent home from the Maple Grove school, near Hopkins, by Miss Margaret Scully, county health nurse. Miss Scully advised a child in another district, who has already seen the doctor regarding the infection, to see him again. Thirteen children were found to have the infection in schools at Parkwell and in that vicinity Wednesday by the nurses.

"EXIT ASCARIS" CONTINUES TO ATTRACT ATTENTION

County Agent Has Full Week for Them Ahead—To Be Run This Evening at Burlington Jet.

The hog worm films, "Exit Ascaris," of the farm bureau continue to attract considerable attention and comment in the county. Between forty and fifty persons saw them when they were run last night at Wesley Chapel and Roy A. Kinnaird went this afternoon to Elmo, where they will be shown tonight. Mr. Kinnaird announced today the film dates for next week as follows:

Monday—Prairie View school.

Tuesday—Gaynor school.

Wednesday—Loraine school.

Thursday—Graham school.

Friday—Burlington Junction.

At Burlington Junction the films will be shown in connection with the Live Stock Shippers' Association picnic.

Mr. Kinnaird said today that he had the use of the films for the rest of the month and next month and that there would be a number of runs after next week.

GENERAL READJUSTMENT COAL PRICES SOUGHT.

Taken Up in U. S. Chamber of Commerce Conference—Pennsylvania Fields Disgrace.

Washington, Sept. 15—A general readjustment of coal prices is sought today at the general conference here attended by representatives of business, industry, and railroad public utilities. The conference was called by the United States Chamber of Commerce. Secretary Hoover, outlining the purpose, declared that the coal movement must be greatly facilitated and hastened to prevent hardship this winter. He asked the united front of industry to prevent gouging by the coal interests.

Washington, Sept. 15—Charges of union officials that five thousand miners and families had been evicted by the operators in Connellsville, Pa., coal fields were aired in the senate this afternoon. Senator Watson of Georgia declared the situation in the Pennsylvania field a disgrace.

SMITH DAMAGE CASE WAS SETTLED FOR $5,000

Burlington Junction Suit Was Compromised Out of Court at Albany Yesterday.

The $10,000 damage case of Mrs. Jessie A. Smith against the City of Burlington Junction and Adolph Lippman was settled out of court yesterday at Albany for $5,000. The case was scheduled for trial yesterday at Albany but the parties were able to get together and make this settlement. The amount to be paid was divided equally between the two defendants.

Mrs. Smith brought suit against the city of Burlington Junction and Mr. Lippman as a result of the death of Mrs. Smith's husband, Orin B. Smith, from injuries sustained when he fell into an excavation at the rear of the Lippman building in Burlington Junction last December.

TRYING TO AVERT PENN. R. R. STRIKE

DAUGHERTY THINKS STRIKERS WILL THANK GOVERNMENT

KELLER CASE TOMORROW

Government's Case in the Hearing Before Wilkerson to be Completed Today

Washington, Sept. 15—Efforts to avert strike of clerks, freight handlers, ticket sellers and other employees of the Pennsylvania railroad were made today by an official of the department of labor in a conference with representatives of the men. Brotherhood officials claim to have 147 grievances against the road and threatened to order an immediate strike.

Chicago, Sept. 15—Union labor in time will thank the government for an injunction against the striking shopmen is an opinion of Attorney General Daugherty expressed in his first public statement he has made since wide criticism of his drastic act and congressional talk of impeaching him for alleged violation of the constitution.

Washington, Sept. 15—Charges upon which Representative Oscar Keller, Republican, based his impeachment proceeding against Attorney General Daugherty will be heard tomorrow by the house judiciary committee, it was announced today by Representative Voilestead, committee chairman. Keller will appear before the committee to present evidence in support of charges.

Chicago, Sept. 15—The government's case in the hearing before Federal Judge Wilkerson to make permanent the injunction against the striking railworkers will be completed today, counsel announced as the proceedings continued. If the motion by the defense to dismiss the writ is denied adjournment until Monday will be asked by the defendants, it was stated.

RICHMAN TO GIVE RECITAL IN MARYVILLE SOON

Will Sing at Monthly Convocation to be Held at State Teachers College Tuesday.

L. A. Richman, the new head of the voice department, at the State Teachers College Conservatory of Music, will be heard in public recital some time in the near future, according to an announcement made today by Charles R. Gardner, head of the Conservatory.

Mr. Richman is a baritone soloist and is a graduate and a post graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and a graduate and post graduate of Daniel Beddoe of that institution. He has also been a member of the faculty at the Cincinnati Conservatory. He has just returned from a season's study with the masters of Europe in Paris and is now in Maryville carrying out his duties. He has a large class in voice in which there are some persons with remarkable voices.

At the first monthly convocation of the student body of the State Teachers College next Tuesday, Mr. Richman will sing a group of songs. He will also sing at the annual teachers meeting which will be held in Maryville in October.

Mr. Richman will carry the baritone solo parts in the musical presentations given by the State Teachers College this year. He will be a member of the choruses and clubs of the institution. He has had a world of experience in this line and has at different times appeared as soloist with leading oratorical societies of the country.

Mr. Richman's wife will come to Maryville some time soon. They have taken a house on Fillmore street.

Forumettes

A lot of us lose all
The sweetness of life
By continually keeping
Our noses to the grindstone.

The Maryville man who thinks he understands his auto is in the same class as the boob who thinks he understands women.

The more energy a man wastes in talking the less he will have in making good.

Uncle Abner says while men may disgust by talking shop a lot more women make themselves objectionable by talking shopping (Evidently Abner's wife has just hit him for some money for her Fall outfit.)

It usually is hard to convince a Maryville man that he is a chump and usually unnecessary.

Nothing pleases a Maryville girl like telling her that famous fib that she inspires you to noble things.

There goes a man whom a half dozen doctors gave up. The observer of the passerby said to his other half as he pointed out a citizen going along the street. "What is the matter with him?" we asked. "He won't pay his bills."

The average man gets about what he deserves in the long run but he gets a lot of things he does not deserve while he is running.

Louise, the stenographer, says it is often hard to forgive our friends for our loneliness.

A man went into a drug store the other day and asked if he had any hair tonics he could recommend.

"Well, here is one spoken highly of by those who have drunk it," he replied showing him a fancy bottle.

There are a lot of fathers and mothers in Maryville who were champ spellers in the little red school house days who now depend on their youngsters to give them the latest in orthography.

Vagrant Musings.

A judge recently acquitted a man of the charge of stealing $10 on the plea of insanity. A man certainly is insane who would steal $10 if he was going to steal.

New York, Sept. 15.—Reprimanded by her mother for going out at night too much, Miss Estelle Corrigan, seventeen, jumped from a four-story window in her home here. She died with a fractured skull two hours later at Roosevelt Hospital.

PRISONERS CAN'T STAND

HIGHBROW STUFF; ESCAPE
Berlin, Sept. 15.—Several "jail birds" of Brandenburg Prison, near Berlin, made a daring escape because they could no longer stand the spiritual food offered to them by the staff. After being recaptured and asked by the authorities why they escaped they stated that the books given them to read contained too much "highbrow" stuff and "morality."

RUMANIANS ESTABLISH

NEW RELIGIOUS ORDER
Bucharest, Sept. 14.—The White Pigeons is the name of the latest fanatical religious sect in Rumania. The apostle of this new order proclaims that the world will be saved if the number of true converts attains 144,000. The principal tenets of the religion are continence and chastity. The Bucharest press expresses fears regarding the rapid increase of the adherents of the new faith.

PLOWS UP WATCH LOST

20 YEARS; STILL RUNS
Osborn, Mo., Sept. 14.—Percy Rogers, a farmer living near here, noticed something bright in the fields he was plowing. Picking it up he found it to be a watch. He cleaned the dirt off the outside, wound it up and it started running.

He discovered it was a watch he had lost twenty years ago.

BLUE HERON CAPTURED

FOR CINCINNATI ZOO
Cincinnati, O., Sept. 15.—A huge blue heron, winging a solitary flight thousands of miles from his tropical home, stopped to rest in Cincinnati recently and now has a permanent home in the local zoo. Pinion-sore and weary, the exhausted traveler dropped into the yard of the Rev. I. G. Armbrust, pastor of the North College Hill Methodist Church, and was turned over to the zoo by him. The bird has been named "Margaret" in honor of the minister's little daughter.

CHAIN LETTER WORRIES

WOMEN IN ELYRIA, OHIO
Elyria, Ohio, Sept. 14.—The old chain letter has been revived in this section of the State and is worrying scores of superstitious women.

The latest letter reads:

"Copy this and send to nine friends whom you wish good luck. The chain was started by an American officer in France and should go around the world three times. Do not break the chain, or bad luck will follow. Do this within twenty-four hours, then count nine days, and you will have good fortune. Good luck!"

Appleman Bros. on Market
Appleman Bros. of Nodaway County had on the St. Joseph market Tuesday seventy-one steers averaging 1,049 pounds. They sold at $9.35.

Thomas Kirwin, Nodaway county, was here Thursday with 3 loads of steers, mixed breeds, averaging 1278 lbs., that sold at $10, a very satisfactory price.—St. Joseph Stock Yards Journal.

Judge Tells Of Juries Shooting Dice To Decide Fate Of Accused

Akron, Ohio, Sept. 15.—"The machinery which our officials use today in the administration of justice is that machinery which was evolved in the days of the stage coach and the knitting machine," declared Miss Florence Allen, one of Cuyahoga County's twelve Common Pleas Judges, addressing the East Akron Board of Trade.

Judge Allen urged a higher moral code and the introduction of business methods in the administration of justice, together with abandonment of outworn machinery of the law in favor of new codes tempered to the needs of the present.

She said judges are hampered in their decisions by the enormous amount of litigation which has to be handled and by the circumstance that there is no acknowledged head to the judicial departments.

"I have worked with many juries whose ability I questioned," Judge Allen said, pleading that substantial citizens of the community abandon their practice of pulling every wire to avoid jury service.

"I know positively of instances in which juries played cards, or shot dice, in order to arrive at a speedy decision, and criminals of the worse type were, thereby turned loose upon the community," asserted Judge Allen.

LIVE PEACEFULLY IF YOU WOULD LIVE LONG
Kansas City, Sept. 15.—If you would live long, live peacefully.

This is the recipe for longevity, according to David C. Barnard, 192 years old, who has been visiting here.

"Get religion and it'll make you so happy you'll just live easy," the centenarian explained.

Another contributing factor toward a long life, Barnard declared, is consistent exercise. Barnard, a Civil War veteran, lives with one of his nine children at Jericho Springs, Mo.

★ STAR ★

There is a remarkable interest in the STAR CAR. People who have never owned a car are laying aside funds, systematically, looking forward to the time when they will have enough to buy a STAR. Some are disposing of the car they have, in preparation for a STAR. Never before could a real automobile be bought for as low as $285. (chassis). Every day we have numerous inquiries about it, and about when we can make deliveries. We hope to be able to announce, through the newspapers, the arrival of our sample car in a short time, probably the latter part of this month.

Now that we have had some rains, it is an appropriate time to build fences and we notice an increased movement of field fence and barbed wire. Prices are right, too.

The prices we have on wagons are moving them out. We anticipate a shortage for corn husking.

Wonder how many ladies have been saving for a MULTI-MOTOR WASHER? Our salesman called on one the other day who had saved the price of a machine and had for some time been waiting for him to call. The unfortunate part of it is that she has been washing the hard way, while she might have had the easy way some time ago. Don't wait for our salesman to find you—a telephone call or a letter will bring him at once. If you haven't all the money yet, you may take advantage of our payment plan.

BOYS THRIVED ON

LOST GOLF BALLS

id in Grass At Pittsburgh Links And Grabbed Off All Wild Ones.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 15.—Golfers at the Municipal links have just come to their own through the aid of Superintendent of Parks George W. Burke and Magistrate Tensard Dew. f. of Morals Court. A pernicious practice by caddies and other had boys has been stopped. Since the season opened this year golfers who hit the ball out of sight or off the course have been obliged to say "Good-by!" to those balls. But in a few minutes the caddies or some other kid would sell the "lost" ball back to the golfer for ten cents. Superintendent Burke declares that a lot of boys hid in the bushes or tall grass and grabbed a good many balls and resold them over and over again. It developed into a thriving business and a costly nuisance.

Henceforth all sellers of balls will be arrested if they cannot prove an honest title to same. Golfers buying stolen balls will be barred from the links. "And anybody brought before me in this connection I'm going to give a maximum sentence," said the Magistrate.

TRUCK 'SHOOT'S MAN

AS HE JUMPS OFF IT

New York, Sept. 15.—When James

McGlynn, of Brooklyn, jumped off the rear of an army truck in Fifty-eighth street, between First and Second avenues, Brooklyn, he was shot in the ankle by a bullet from a cartridge which was lying in the street and exploded as it was run over by a rear wheel of the truck, just as the man jumped off. The injury was slight.

AKRON PROPOSES POUND

FOR AUTOS, LIKE DOGS

Akron, O., Sept. 15.—An auto

"pound" similar in operation to the "dog pounds" in which cities hold stray animals will be established here if the plan proposed by Safety Director Warren F. Selby is found to be court proof, officials said. The plan Selby says, would relieve police court congestion for minor traffic offenses, and offenders and their machines would be automatically released upon payment of stipulated sums, instead of having to appear in court as under present procedure.

ODD BELIEF FIRMLY ROOTED

Bushmen, Who Should Know Better, Insist Puff Adder Can Make Long-Distance Jump.

One of the greatest causes for dread to be found in the African jungle is "snakes," and every camp fire brings to light fresh stories of reptile terrors.

There is one camp topic that supplies more thrills even than the Koster caves, and that is snakes. You have only to say "snakes," and as though you said "pitsa" to a pack of keen dogs, everyone at the "rondsit" is off on full tongue after mambas, cobras, ringhais, shaap-stickers, puff-adder, and python; and of all the yarns that are related, says a well-known traveler, I swear nothing will beat the absolutely rooted belief that a puff-adder can and does jump backwards over a full-sized tent wagon! A man has told me with evident sincerity that he has "seen it." Yes! He has seen four feet of puff-adder that is built on lines of immobility—spring backwards and spring ten feet high! However, every puff-adder I have had the honor to meet declined, even at the threat of death, to spring an inch. What he did was to anchor three parts of his bloated body on the ground, and then lunge with the fourth part. His reach might be a foot, and as his fangs are long and curved he gives the appearance of "striking backwards" because the head is lifted to bring the long fangs into position. An active puff-adder, very angry, can exert itself to strike, prepare, and strike again—thus covering, say, two feet in two swift lunges. The idea that this sluggish reptile can spring clear of the ground is ridiculous, yet it prevails among a class of men whose business takes them into the veldt, and who are proud of their observation powers.

RELIC OF SPANISH ARMADA?

Anchor Fished Up Off Scottish Coast Is Thought to Be Three Centuries Old.

Not long ago the crew of an English trawler engaged in lobster fishing, near Kinsale, had great difficulty in getting their anchor aboard. It was firmly fixed in some massive, hard substance in the sand bank.

When at last they succeeded in bringing it to the surface, there was attached to it a very ancient anchor, five tons in weight, the shank being over ten feet long and the bend of equal proportions. Fastened to the anchor was a small cannon.

This anchor, which probably belonged to one of the ships of the Spanish armada, wrecked on this coast, has become covered with marine matter, and this, in the three centuries during which it had been embedded in the sand, had been converted into a rocky fossil substance.

The anchor is, of course, considerably worn, but it still presents a very massive appearance, and must have belonged to a very large ship.

Tennis Under Difficulties.

Tennis in the South Sea Islands is not as delightful as it might be, although it has its ardent devotees. Play usually commenced in the alleged "cool" of the evening. The players wore shirts and a vest, nothing else, and with inch-thick rubber glued to the soles of their shoes by way of protection against the heat and hardness of the courts. In five minutes everybody would be a mere dripping rag of profuse perspiration. But no matter, it was tennis, though arguments across the nets seemed the player's strongest point. One of these resulted in a bet as to who would win a game played in diver's helmet and boots, respectively. It was put to the test with the utmost gravity and resulted in a dead heat, the man in the helmet being unable to see through his three glass windows quickly enough to take the ball, and the booted competitors being unable to move.

Long Trip for Tomatoes.

John Bull grows some tomatoes but not nearly enough for his demands so that he depends upon the outside fields. The growing of tomatoes forms the largest industry in the Canary islands, and the manner in which the fruit is consigned to foreign markets is a tribute to the efficiency of the shippers. Owing to the long journey overseas the tomatoes have to be picked when they are turning from green to yellow and they ripen on the voyage. Long years of experience have taught the growers exactly when to gather their crops for consumption abroad, and although the fruit has not the same delicate flavor possessed by home grown, they are received in England in great quantities between the regular seasons.—Chicago Tribune.

Almost Certain.

The Crystal Gazer—I'm sorry to tell you, madam, that your husband will meet his end by being run over by a motor car.

Mrs. Credulous—Oh, are you sure of that?

The Crystal Gazer—It will happen without doubt. That is, barring accidents.—New York Sun.

Natural Complaint.

Mrs. Crabshaw—If you don't ask for any more candy I'll buy you one of those nice toy balloons.

Willie—That's just like you, mamma. Whenever you give me anything it has a string on it.

A GHOST

By CLARISSA MACKIE

©, 1922, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

It had been an unlucky day for Jefferson Deane; first of all it had rained, a gray drizzle had turned the roads to mud and the footpaths to slippery ooze. The night had settled down after a short twilight in which Jefferson finished his work about his little house and then started next door to call on Rosabel Moore.

Of course there was nothing unlucky about being Rosabel's accepted suitor, only somehow they had disagreed about a very trivial matter, and Rosabel had returned his engagement ring, and Jefferson had accepted it in silence and gone off very glumly.

Instead of going directly to his own house next door he tramped through the ooze to the river just to feel the fresh cold wind on his heated face. The bank was steep and slippery—when they picked him up toward midnight he was suffering agonies from a wrenched knee and shoulder.

"In bed for you!" declared old Doctor Jones when they reached the untenanted house where the bachelor lived alone. "I will send Sally Smith to take care of you if she isn't down with the mistry in her back."

"I hope I shan't be tied down here very long," muttered Jefferson, his white face staring up at the steady doctor. "I've got a lot of young chickens coming along—and they need attention. Lucky thing they are fixed for the night and my poultry houses are tight and dry."

"Now you go to sleep, honey, and don't you worry about little chicks—Sally has brung hundreds of little chicks through wuss weather than this!" Jefferson went to sleep, listening to her low crooning voice—for old Sally believed all folks were children at heart and needed soothing at times—and she was right.

Jefferson had been in bed a week, and not once had he had a glimpse of Rosabel nor had he heard a word about her.

Every morning at 7 o'clock Sally had lumbered into the room bearing his breakfast on a huge tray. This morning she came creeping in, her shaking hands holding a plate and a cup and saucer. "Here's yo' tons' an' coffee, Mister Jeff, honey, but ole Sally's got 'er go back home—dat mizry's come after me!"

"Wait till the doctor comes, Sally, and let him give you some medicine and he will drive you home," urged Jefferson, and the old woman consented.

"I can get along, doctor," said Jefferson, "if you'll just tell Maggie Martin to bring me in three meals a day and she can feed the chickens."

"Maggie Martin is the worst cook in the world, but I'll send her down—don't take any chances, boy, and I'll come down tonight and rub you myself."

After their departure the time dragged. He heard the clock ticking its slow round of the hours, saw the sun move across the window, heard the birds singing outside and heard an excited fluttering among his feathered flock.

"I hope it isn't chicken hawks," he muttered restlessly. "No chance to make money out of the poultry business this year—but I guess I won't need it!" He frowned and dozed, with that frown on his anxious young face. He dreamed that Rosabel kissed him, and awoke to find the cat on the bed blinking curiously at a tray beside the bed, where a smoking hot dinner was arranged with dainty care.

Jefferson dragged himself to a sitting posture and smiled wanly.

"Do you believe in ghosts, Peter?" he asked the cat, "for I'll wager that Maggie Martin never cooked this meal—no sit-e-e-e." He attacked the deliciously broiled steak, the creamed potatoes, the hot muffins, the pot of coffee and the generous piece of apple pie. "Old Sally must have come back," he mused, for he had not tasted such a meal since his mother's death, excepting the times he had dined at Rosabel Moore's.

"Couldn't be Mrs. Moore, because she's in Boston," he argued. He decided to watch and wait, but that evening while he waited for the doctor he slept awhile and in that time the tray vanished with its soiled dishes and another took its place—a small one, with toast and warm baked apples and tea.

"There is a ghost in my house," he declared. "A while ago I had heard Rosabel singing—he heard the notes of her piano and her soft, tender voice. 'She didn't have to sing 'Robin Adair,' he muttered, with a hot stinging behind his closed eyelids.

Presently a faint light in the room roused him. From his pillow he could see the large mirror over the bureau at the foot of the bed. Reflected in the mirror was the bedside table and a girl in a white nightgown lifting the tray. "Good night, little sweetheart," he whispered sadly.

"Oh, Jefferson, darling, I'm so sorry," sobbed Rosabel, kneeling beside the bed. "I just couldn't keep away—because—I love you."

"Ho-hum! Cured!" bellowed Dr. Jones from the doorway.

Bluntly Stated.

"How did you come to decide on a political career?"

"I needed a job," replied Senator Sorghum. "I couldn't induce any individual to give me one, so I had to apply to the general public."—Washington Star.

Testing Candle Power of Lights

Among the ways and means by which the bureau of standards tests the electrical capacity and candle power of lights is this large pumpkin-like affair known as an integrating sphere. This instrument is used to measure the average candle power of a light, that is, the average intensity of the light on the interior of a spherical surface of which an electric bulb forms the center point.

EVERY OFFICER AN ATHLETE, U. S. PLAN

Annapolis And West Point Go In Strong For Training Men Physically.

Washington, Sept. 15.—"Every officer an athlete," is the big idea behind the training of the future generals and admirals of the American Army and Navy today.

At Annapolis Rear-Admirals Henry B. Wilson, the superintendent, is backing every midshipman to tackle as many forms of sport as his talents permit. At present of the 2,200 future naval officers more than 1,800 are "out" for some athletic team. Besides the popular favorites of baseball and football, there are track, basketball, lacrosse, hockey, swimming, fencing, tennis, boxing and wrestling teams at the academy, so that the cadet has a wide field of operations.

Sports have become a part of the curriculum at West Point, the army's school. During the four-year course of training the cadet is required to devote a certain number of hours every week to a regular schedule of various sports, similar to the range at Annapolis, and including among others polo. The routine gymnasium training is carried out at both academies in addition to the various athletic competitions.

The underlying idea, of course, is that if every officer is a qualified exponent of several forms of athletic training when that officer has command of a group of men later he will be an interested and capable leader in their recreation as well as in the field of war.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE CLASS AT M. H. S. CROWDED

H. G. Tilley Has Thirty-four Students in Department—Animal Husbandry and Feeds

The class in vocational agriculture at the Maryville High School is crowded this year. There are thirty-four members, nineteen of which took the course last year. The course this year is on animal husbandry and feeds and feeding. Field trips will be taken in the animal husbandry section. On these trips the class will make a study of and will judge the stock on different farms in this locality.

In the feeds and feeding section the principles of feeding will be studied and the kinds of feed necessary for every kind of farm animal. In the shop work department the class will take orders for gates, hog-houses, feeders and practically everything else one would want made. Two orders have already been taken for hog feeders.

Eight members of the class have taken the making of batter for their project. The butter will be made twice a week and will be clean and sanitary. It will be put up just like creamery butter and will be sold.

The members of the class are—Porterfield Cockayne, Chester Davidson, Eldon Dow, Ralph Dowden, Thomas Eckert, Arthur Hartman, Roland Holloway, Lawrence Hunt, LeRoy Jones, George Murry, Carroll Belt, Homer Ogden, John Sewell, Robert Westfall, Jay Caudell, Frank Baker, Byron Busby, Franklin Dowden, Leslie Dowden, Roland Evans, Clifford Froyd, Harold Holt, Harold Kemp, Oliver Manley, Glen McGinniss, Ernest Neal, Emerson Neff, Raymond Oakerson, Robert Porter, Forrest Stark, Donald Williams, John Sorrie, Harold Roelofson and William Oakerson.

The class is taught by H. G. Tilley.

WILLARD HARTMAN WEITES OF STATE FAIR SCHOOL

Bernard Coy Represented Nodaway County at Sedalia—Thinks It Worthwhile

Willard Hartman, 13 years old, of Bernard, who represented Nodaway County in the Boys State Fair School held at Sedalia in August during the Missouri State Fair, writes the following regarding his experiences at the fair:

I arrived at Sedalia about 6 o'clock Monday evening. I went immediately to the Boys State Fair School camp and registered from Nodaway County.

As the other boys had been to supper, Mr. Cole, who had charge of the boys, took me to the dining hall where the boys ate their meals. After I had eaten my supper, I returned to the camp, which was located just east of the manufacturers building, and was shown to my tent. There were about thirty tents in the camp. There were from two to four boys in each tent. There was also a large tent in which the lectures were held. We were all supposed to be in bed by 11 o'clock, so I went to bed immediately after the fireworks ended. If we were not in bed by 11 o'clock, we had to pick up paper around the camp the next morning.

The next morning it was raining. At 8 o'clock we were lined up and marched to breakfast. By the time we had finished breakfast it had stopped raining.

From breakfast we were marched to a large tent where the lectures were held. The speakers were W. H. Lynch of the Springfield Teachers College and W. D. McKee of the State Board of Agriculture. They both gave interesting and instructive lectures. It was 11 o'clock so we marched to dinner.

After dinner we were at liberty, and could visit various buildings and see the exhibits.

At 5 o'clock we went to supper.

After supper we went to the grand stand and viewed the showing of saddle and light harness horses, which was very interesting, as there were some fine horses shown. After the horse show there were three attractions. Also auto polo and then the fire works, which were the best I have ever seen. Then we went to the camp and went to bed.

This is an outline of each days program, except we had different lectures each day. The lectures were all good. The Boys State Fair School Baseball team played the Boy Scout team of Sedalia on Tuesday. They also had a track meet on Thursday.

In the afternoons we visited the various live stock exhibits and demonstrations of farm machinery. We saw some fine cattle, horses, hogs, mules, sheep and goats. We also saw all kinds of poultry, including ducks, geese, chickens and turkeys. The machinery demonstrations were very interesting.

The display in the manufacturers building was very interesting, especially the different kinds of ore which is mined in the southern part of the state. One building of particular interest was the agricultural building showing the different kinds of agricultural products raised in the different parts of the state.

Nodaway County did not have any exhibit of agricultural products, but it showed the resources of the county in moving pictures taken from the real activities of the county.

In closing I will say that I had a fine time and enjoyed myself very much. I believe that every boy in the county between the age of twelve and eighteen years should take the examinations in June to get a chance to go to the state fair with all his expenses paid.

DEFENDS BOOZE, GETS ONE TOO MANY AND IS BURNED IN APARTMENT

Paris, Sept. 15.—"France is a free country", M. Rohl told his friends. "There never will be a law here taking away a man's cognac."

Whereupon M. Rohl ordered another. When the time came for him to go to his home on the Rue des Beaux Arts he had difficulty in finding the keyhole. He had even more difficulty in lighting the kerosene lamp with which he lighted himself to bed. But most difficult of all was remembering with his feet how wide the steps were.

The fire was put out without much endangering neighboring apartments. But M. Rohl's body was found burned to a crisp.

New Mail Carrier at Skidmore

Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Bassett and two children of Pocatello, Idaho, came Monday morning to make their home in Skidmore. Mr. Bassett has traded mail routes with Bert Garrott. They drove through in a Ford truck. Mr. Garrott left a week ago last Sunday for Pocatello to take up his duties as city mail carrier there. Myron Newton carried the mail on route 4 until Mr. Bassett arrived.—Skidmore News.

J ADAMS PUFFER TO SPEAK AT PICKERING

Kansas City Welfare Worker to Speak At Union Meeting—Other Items of News (O. G. Null)

On Sunday Morning of the 17th there will be a Union Meeting of the Methodist and Christian Churches at the Christian Church to hear about a State Program for Human Welfare from the standpoint of Prevention.

Missouri passed a Welfare Law at its last session which makes it possible for each county to have a County Superintendent of Public Welfare who shall investigate and handle in a scientific way the problems of delinquency, dependency, truancy and poverty. He also is the Parole Officer and Probation officer for the Courts. He is a general all around welfare worker for town and country.

This law has been in operation for five years in North Carolina with wonderful success. Missouri is the second state to pass the law. Virginia is the third.

Mr. J. Adams Puffer, a man of national reputation on Boy Life and Boy Problems will be the speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Gray started Wednesday in their motor car on a trip through Nebraska and Colorado in hopes of benefitting Mrs. Gray, who has been suffering from asthma and hay fever for several days. Mrs. J. E. Alexander of Lincoln, Neb., a sister of Mr. Gray, accompanied them as far as her home. Mrs. Gray and the children plan to be gone about a month but Mr. Gray will return sooner if he can arrange a suitable place for the family.

Frank Adcock, a former resident of this vicinity, but now residing at St. Joseph, is visiting old time friends here this week.

W. A. Dalrymple went to Bristow, Okla., the last of last week to look after the interests of the heirs of Mrs. Louisiana Cline in an oil well which was recently completed on her estate there. He returned this week enthusiastic as to the result of opening the well.

Vern Fakes made a business trip to St. Joseph on Thursday of this week, returning home Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford E. Jones announce the birth of a daughter whom they have named Louise Ruth at the St. Francis hospital last Sunday. Mrs. Jones and the baby are both getting along splendidly, and expect to be brought home the last of next week.

Some twenty-five families of this vicinity gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Thompson last Sunday as a parting courtesy to F. M. Wallis, who left last Monday for Southern Texas, where he will spend the winter. A picnic dinner was served cafeteria style to which all did ample justice. The afternoon was spent in social converse and every one seemed to enjoy the occasion. Mr. Wallis has been a resident of Pickering for over 47 years and will be greatly missed this winter as he has always been prominent in the activities of the community.

About one hundred members and friends of the Christian Church at this place gathered at the parsonage last Tuesday evening to welcome the new pastor, Chas. E. Knouse and his family to the community. On account of the crowd being too large to be accommodated at the parsonage, they repaired to the church, where the evening was spent listening to an impromptu program of songs, instrumental music, readings and jokes put on by various persons. A number of packages of staples were donated to the minister's family by those participating in the event.

Bible school at 10 a. m. at the Christian church next Sunday. At 11:00 a. m. a union service of the congregation of both churches will be addressed by

CHEF OF THE BEARS

The bear's best friend is C. C. Trevey, their chef at the National Zoological park in Washington for ten years, who never fails to bake bread for them daily. And they are not dainty eaters, either, says Trevey, for 300 loaves a day are baked for them. The photographer caught Trevey kneading the dough preparatory to the "big bake."

Dr. J. Adams Puffer of Kansas City, preaching services by the pastor at 8 p. m. Subject, "Are We Awake?" It has been decided to begin a revival meeting on October 8 with Rev. Carl Burkhardt of Plattsburg as evangelist.

Sunday school at 10:00 a. m. at the M. E. church next Sunday. The congregation will participate in the union service at the Christian church at 11 a. m. It is expected that the conference which meets at Braymer this week will assign a pastor to the Pickering church.

A short program was given and at the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. John Carmichael on October 11.

Mrs. Frank Riley spent Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs.

William Ritter.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Griffith and daughter spent Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Heman Sears.

JESSE McDONALD STRUCK BY LIGHTNING BOLT

Was Kneecapped Friday Evening While Caring for Stock—Is Improving Nicely (From Skidmore News)

Jesse McDonald, who lives on the farm of his uncle, David White, 6 1/2 miles northwest of town, was knocked down by a bolt of lightning Friday evening while caring for his stock.

It was after dark, and Mr. McDonald was bringing some hogs from the pasture. He had been out in the rain long enough for his clothing to become thoroughly saturated, and he was wearing a pair of rubber boots. It may be that the wet clothing acted as a better conductor than the body, or possibly the rubber boots offered enough insulation to keep the bolt from passing through his body. At any rate, while Mr. McDonald was knocked down, and was completely blind when he first got up, he was, apparently, not seriously injured. He stated that a large ball of fire seemed to explode directly in front of his face.

Mr. McDonald was able to get the hogs to the barn and care for them, but he did not attempt to do his other chores.

Mr. White, who spent Monday and Tuesday at the farm, reports that Mr. McDonald is improving nicely. His two little fingers, and his right leg were still affected Tuesday, but he was much better than when he had been on Monday, and it is thought that he will be entirely recovered soon.

FATHER FROWIN RETIRES AS PASTOR AT CLYDE

Will Have Charge of the Farming Operations of the Monastery (From Conception Courier)

Owing to ill health, Rev. Fr. Frowin, O. S. B., after many years of hard and patient service, retired from the pastorate of St. Benedict's Church at Clyde and returned to the Monastery at Conception, where he will have charge of the farming operations of that institution. The members of the Clyde parish regret his departure very much, but it is hoped that the change will be beneficial. Rev. Fr. Ambrose, who for the past two and one half years has been pastor of the church at Parnell, will take charge at the Clyde parish, and Rev. Fr. Odillo Scheiber, of Springfield, will take up the work at Parnell.

LORD CURZON SNOOZES AS RECEPTION AWAITS

Orleans, France, Sept. 15—Lord Curzon, British Foreign Minister, arrived here to consult a specialist recommended by the King of Spain.

He was awaited at the station by a reception committee, acquaintances and newspaper men.

The train pulled in, then switched out into the yards. No Lord Curzon. As a last resort a disappointed gardener searched the train. He found the British Cabinet member in the corner of the carriage, fast asleep.

MISSOURI WILD FOWL SEASON OPENS SEPTEMBER 16

The season for wild ducks and geese, brant, Wilson snipe, coot, gallinule, black-bellied and golden plovers, and yellowlegs under the Migratory Bird Treaty, Act, opens in Missouri, Saturday, September 16, and extends to and including December 31. Items recently appearing in some newspaper ers to the effect that the season will open September 15 are incorrect, and persons hunting these birds on that date or prior thereto are liable to arrest and prosecution under the Federal Law, warns the United States Department of Agriculture.

RICHMOND WANTS MARYVILLE'S IDEAS IN C. OF C. WORK

C. O. Mansur, Secretary, to Come Here to Make Study of Doings of Local Organization

A long distance telephone call was received this morning by the Maryville Chamber of Commerce from C. G. Weary of the Chamber of Commerce at Richmond, Mo., asking that the Richmond Chamber's new secretary, C. O. Mansur, be allowed to come here to visit the local Chamber and look over the work that it has done, in order to get ideas to carry into use at Richmond. George A. Pickens, secretary, assured Mr. Weary that it would be all right and that Mr. Mansur would receive a hearty welcome in Maryville.

Mr. Mansur is expected to arrive Sunday or Monday and will be present at the Chamber of Commerce dinner that is to be held at the Baptist church Monday evening. Mr. Pickens and other members of the Chamber here will explain in detail the work that is being done. He is expected to remain two or three days. Mr. Pickens organized the Chamber at Richmond two years ago. Mr. Mansur is a local man at Richmond.

ATTENDANCE AT COUNTY CONVENTION IS CUT DOWN

But Large Crowd of Young People Are Expected to be Here This Evening

Attendance at the county conference of the Christian church was cut down considerably this morning by the cloudy weather and by the rain that fell in some sections of the county. By 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, however, about 125 persons had gathered at the First Christian church and a large crowd of young folks are expected to be there this evening for the young people's session.

The meeting this evening will be presided over by Miss Margaret Louise Rosmer, the devotion will be led by Mrs. G. W. Burnett of Ravenwood and Miss Ina Evans of Lathrop is scheduled to make the address.

The meeting this afternoon is being carried out pretty much according to the schedule.

F. C. MILLER GOES TO MANAGERS' CONVENTION

F. C. Miller, local manager of the J. C. Penney Company, left Wednesday night for St. Louis, where he will attend a convention of managers from a number of the Penney stores.

The managers of all the stores east of the Mississippi and of all the stores in Missouri, Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma will be at the convention. They will number approximately 100.

The convention will be held at the Jefferson Hotel and beginning today it will continue for a week or ten days.

ALL CORN FOR FARMERS TRUST CO. SHOW MUST BE IN OCT. 2

All corn for the Farmers Trust Company corn show must be in by 4 o'clock on October 2, President George L. Wilfley of the trust company said today. The show will be held at the company's building. Judging will be done on October 14. Ten prizes ranging from $10 down to $1 for the best exhibits have been offered.

ROY WILLIAMS FINED $5 FOR GIVING A BOGUS CHECK HERE.

Roy Williams was fined $5 by Justice of Peace W. L. Johnson this morning when he pleaded guilty to giving a bogus check to the Turner Cafe of this city drawn on the Barnard State Bank. Williams was arrested at New Hampton yesterday by Sheriff Steve Roach and brought to Maryville.

SENATE BEGINS FINAL ACTION ON SOLDIER BONUS

Washington, Sept. 15—The Senate this afternoon took up the soldier bonus bill for final action before sending it to the White House for presidential action. The last step will be the adoption of the report of the senate and house conferees who adjusted difference so as to pass each branch.

MORE HEAVY FIGHTING REPORTED IN IRELAND.

Londan, Sept. 15—Twenty persons were killed in a battle at Dublin Wednesday, according to delayed advices received here today. Fighting is reported from the greater part of the Irish Free State, with a particularly heavy battle at Kenmare which was recaptured from the Irregulars.

A TRUE RAT STORY

Auburntown, 6-23-22.
Stearns Electric Paste Co.,
Dear Sir: Mr. Robert T. Donnell of Auburntown, came in our store the other day and wanted something to kill rats. He told him a box Stearns Rat Paste. And he put some paste on six biscuits that night and the next morning he found fifty-four big rats. And the second night he put out four more biscuits with paste on them, and the second morning he found seventy-two rats. Making a total of seventy-six rats in two nights, and there were lots more that he did not find.

This is some big rat tale, but nevertheless, it is so. Just thought would write to let you know that your rat paste is good.

Respectfully, KENNEDY BROTHERS.

SALEM'S MODERN WITCHES

Salem, Mass., has erected billboards at the entrance to the city that are unique in artistry and practical qualities. The "community board" shown above illustrates Salem's two claims to fame—its ancient doorknobs and its witchcraft history. On the panel of the door is a list of historic places that attract the visitor's attention.

HAPPY YOUNG COUPLE

Congratulations are showering in a Mr. and Mrs. John Harriman on their marriage, which took place in Port Chester, N. Y., a few weeks ago. The wedding was a secret one, although it took place with the consent of both families. The couple are now living at the home of Howard Chandler Christy, who has acted as guardian for the bride. John Harriman is the nineteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Harriman of New York, and his bride was Miss Alice A. Laidley of Chicago, the same age as the groom. The couple met at the home of the famous artist, where the bride was staying while studying music.

BARNARD SORGHUM PLANT READY FOR BUSINESS

M. L. Griggs, Veteran Sorghum Maker, Has Modern Plant and Will Start Boiling Next Week.

(Barnard Bulletin.)
M. L. Griggs, veteran sorghum maker, with a reputation for having the best sorghum in Northwest Missouri, is about ready for business again. He has recently rebuilt his furnace and now everything is in readiness for the process of making sweet and pure sorghum.

Griggs has been a sorghum maker for twenty-five years the last two years of which were spent near Barnard. The earlier sorghum making period was spent on Brielle Ridge where he has a reputation for sorghum that the people bring their cane to him for making.

Last year the Griggs mill turned out something like 1700 gallons of pure sorghum. This year the estimate is around 1000 gallons. The capacity of the plant is about 100 gallons a day on an average.

Griggs uses a soft wood for boiling his juice. The soft wood, he claims, gives him a hot blaze without the bed of coals, which retain the heat and breaks down the walls of his furnace. He uses willow wood when he can get it.

The sorghum plant, according to Griggs, best adapted for this country is the Orange variety. It must not be grown on a field where barnyard manure has been spread or allowed to accumulate, or where stock has run over the ground.

In Memory of Heroic Chaplains

This bronze memorial tablet, by Miss Eusebia Paell of Boston, was unveiled on the wall of the third floor of the Massachusetts statehouse in Boston. It is to the memory of Bay State clergymen—Catholic and Protestant—who died in service as chaplains during the World war. One of the figures is that of Father John B. DeValles, Catholic priest of New Bedford, and the other is Rev. Walton Dunker, Protestant clergyman of Worcester.

He Didn't Know Where He Was Going

"Going but know not where" is the unusual inscription ordered placed on his tombstone by Philip G. Wright, a Putnam (Conn.) carpenter, dead four years, whose grave is visited by hundreds of passing automobilists who have been told of the inscription. Wright was noted among his friends for his disbelief in a life hereafter.

TOURISTS CAME NEAR GETTING FRIEND IN BAD

Man From Los Angeles Had a Good Notice Not to Go Back Home After He Saw Nodaway Co.

O. C. Stafford, a traveling man of St. Joseph, came near getting Ben Boedeker, his traveling partner in bad last night at the tourists' park. The two men are making their rounds in a Ford touring car, camping out nights. When they came to Maryville, Stafford insisted to Boedeker, who was driving, that they were to drive their car up in front of one of the summer cottages in the park and stay in the cottage, as that was what they were there for. Mr. Boedeker took Mr. Stafford at his word and was on the point of turning in in front of one of the houses, when Mr. Stafford, fearing that the police might come and that the joke might prove a serious one, told his friend where they were supposed to go.

E. G. Bond of Los Angeles, Cal.

camped in the park night before last and was so greatly impressed with the park and the surrounding territory that he wrote in the register, "I like your park and I've a good notion not to go back."

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Trueblood of Clarinda, Ia., stopped at the park and wrote in the register that it was the best park they had ever seen. They were on their way to Ozark in the Ozarks. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Aggers of Clarinda, Iowa, were also on their way to the Ozarks. The following persons registered from Osborn, Mo., and wrote in the register, "Think you have a very beautiful park and well equipped. Many thanks." Miss Beriah Conners, Miss Bevel Conners, Mrs. R. Conners, Iowa. In Newell, J. C. Newell. They were all on their way from Rivertown, Iowa, to the houses, when Mr. Stafford, fearing that the police might come and that the joke might prove a serious one, told his friend where they were supposed to go.

CAN NOW GO ON FOURTH STREET TO COLLEGE

Is Opened After Being Closed for Some Time—Working at Third and Dunn Streets

Fourth street, Dunn and Normal avenues have been opened to the State Teachers College after being closed for about three weeks. The corner of Dunn street and Normal avenue has been cut off so that the turn is not so abrupt, several feet having been taken off the corner at C. E. Wells' home.

The city expects the Wabash railway to cut off the corner at Fourth and Dunn streets on the north side but the company has not started this work as yet.

The city today is working at Third and Dunn streets, paving on the north side of Third up to the sidewalk crossing that crosses Dunn. The new bit of pavement will run from the pavement on Third street to the crossing and will eliminate a rough place in a street that is considerably traveled.

DON'T LIKE TOMATOES; FORMERLY "LOVE APPLES" Pomeroy, Ohio, Sept. 15—Years ago Sheffield Russell, eighty-two, tasted a "love apple"—as tomatoes then were called. He did not like its odor. Since that day Russell has never tasted a tomato, although it has developed from the size of a hickory nut to an object weighing several pounds.

The Maryvillian-Etts --By "Scoop"

The High School day, which is to be substituted in place of the annual walk out, according to plans, will be one of the biggest stunts of the school year. Many of the boys are interested in the day on account of the cats being prepared by the Smith-Hughes class in stead of having weiners, hams and marshmallows.

A class in Virgil, the fourth year of Latin, is one of the new courses which is offered this year. Eight students have enrolled in the class, which is taught by Mrs. John K. Sawyer, Jr.

It seems as though the senior class must be partial to red this year, when both the president, Harold O'Banion, and the vice-president, Catherine Remus have red hair.

Miss Lois Nash of the high school faculty, has been chosen as the sponsor for the advanced senior class.

There has been talk of forming a history club at the high school. Such a club would meet once every two weeks and have programs which would be of an interest to all the students who are taking history courses in the school.

The radio outfit which was purchased by the school last year has again been put in operation and furnished enjoyable concerts to all the students who stay for their lunches at noon.

Cheer up, all ye high school students, only thirty-four more weeks of school.

The football preteges are making the best of the fine football weather this week in taking extra hard workouts. The boys are all in good condition and are training hard and so are able to stand the gait. The squad has begun scrimmaging, the results of which are displayed the next day in the way of sore muscles and stiff necks. Coach H. Frank Lawrence is optimistic about the prospects for this year's team and with the addition of Homer Ogden, Harry Carstens, last year's football captain, and Kenneth Sherman, the right end of King City's team of last year, it will have one of the heaviest lines and fastest back field in this part of the state.

The rumor has it that a Trenton scout was looking over the squad at practice last week and he reported that it would be pretty hard on the Trenton team. The school team this year has its eye on more than revenge over Trenton, as a good many think the green pennant offered by the College for the championship team would look fine hanging in the assembly room.

Two of the football boys have received this year's supply of sweaters and pants. The sweaters are green with black stripes around the sleeves. All most all of the boys have had their helmets painted black and green to match. The uniforms alone are enough of an incentive to make a person work for a berth on the team.

Coach Lawrence announced at the practice that there would be no division of squads until the first game and that every person has an equal chance for making the team if he will train and work hard.

At the assembly Wednesday an impromptu program was furnished by a group of DeMolay boys. After the student body had finished singing

"Old Black Joe," the boys grouped together and sang their old favorite "That's Where My Money Goes" and "Old McDonald Had a Farm."

A lot of pep for girls' basketball is being shown already. The players of last year are talking to new girls and paving the way to not only a winning first team, but also a capable second string. Practice will begin soon after Thanksgiving.

The orchestra has been rehearsing regularly, and Loren J. Schmabel, director, believes it to be the best orchestra that M. H. S. has had for some time. The instrumentation is good, and will be improved by the addition of a xylophone, which the board decided to purchase, at the meeting last night.

Miss Katherine Carpenter's vocational home economics girls have been studying millinery for the past week. Some of the girls made the hat frames themselves, others bought the frames and covered and trimmed them. Some real "creations" are in embryo.

The vocational home economics girls under Miss Elizabeth Leet have had as their problem for the past week, vegetable and fruit canning. Many enticing looking jars are reposing on the pantry shelves in the home economics department.

Although the books have not yet arrived, the teachers are assigning lessons and the atmosphere of the high school has changed. Gradually knitting is less frequently seen and promises to become a curiosity by the beginning of next week.

VETERANS HOLD INITIATION FOLLOWED BY REFRESHMENTS

The Seth Ray David Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held a meeting last night and took Rex Johnson and Dr. Claude P. Fryer in as new members. Following the meeting Jack Pennington and Ed Tindall surprised the Veterans by taking them to the Pennington Cafe and giving them a "feed."

Watermelon Feast

Mr. and Mrs. Christian D. Kutschinski and Miss Ruth Matter motored out to Sunset Hill Wednesday evening and enjoyed a watermelon feast.
